Preface

We are pleased to present the proceedings of the 10th International Conference on Indonesian Social and Political Enquiries (ICISPE 2025), organized by the Faculty of Social and Political Sciences, Universitas Diponegoro. As an established international forum in the field of social and political sciences, ICISPE continues to facilitate scholarly exchange and interdisciplinary collaboration among academics, researchers, practitioners, policymakers, and stakeholders from around the world.

The theme of ICISPE 2025, "Fostering Collaborative Synergies: Advancing Environmental Governance through the Harmony of Public-Private Sector and Society in a Digitally Connected World," reflects the growing importance of collective action in addressing contemporary environmental and governance challenges. In an increasingly interconnected world, effective environmental governance requires meaningful collaboration among governments, the private sector, civil society, and communities. Through this conference, participants were provided with an opportunity to exchange ideas, share research findings, and discuss innovative approaches to promoting sustainable and inclusive development.

ICISPE 2025 brought together scholars and professionals from diverse disciplinary backgrounds to explore issues related to environmental governance, public policy, communication, sustainability, digital transformation, and social development. Through keynote presentations and parallel sessions, participants contributed valuable perspectives on addressing complex societal challenges and advancing knowledge in their respective fields.

The papers included in this volume represent the contributions of researchers whose work has undergone a rigorous peer-review process to ensure academic quality, originality, and relevance. Collectively, these papers reflect current developments and emerging perspectives in the social and political sciences, while offering insights that may inform both future research and policy practice.

We would like to express our sincere appreciation to all keynote speakers, authors, reviewers, participants, and members of the organizing committee for their dedication and support. Their contributions have been instrumental in the success of ICISPE 2025 and in maintaining the high academic standards of these proceedings.

We hope that the studies presented in this volume will serve as a valuable resource for researchers, practitioners, and policymakers, and will encourage further collaboration and innovation in addressing the challenges of environmental governance and sustainable development in a digitally connected world.

Prof. Bulan Prabawani, Prof. Chen Shih Chih and Dr. Ardy Wibowo
