Abstract. The tourism sector is not only not only in urban areas, but also occurs in rural areas, because this sector is one of the country’s most important sources of foreign exchange. Negative impacts on the environment not only occur in Indonesia but occur in most parts of the world, causing problem in policy development Conventional tourism products in tourism products in tourism development in areas that are mostly Tourism Villages. The current phenomenon of tourist is leaving many tourist cities and tourist turning to tourism products that support the environment, culture, and conversation in a specially way. Tourist satisfaction is no longer based on the beauty of nature and the completeness of tourist facilities but also the comfort and complexity of interaction with the environment and the local community. Based on the facts above, the Tourism Village Business needs to from a policy (law) as a more appropriate tourism development plan in the future so that the business will increase again. The concept of rural tourism (rural tourism) with product characteristics that are unique, distinctive and environmentally friendly should be a new solution for the development of tourism in the world. Responding to the movement of tourist, especially in Tasikmalaya Regency began to be built in several places that are in by the regions that are most in demand by regions in tourism products.

Keywords: Village tourism policy, community empowerment, village tourism management, business law, rural tourism

1. Introduction

The Tourism sector is one of country’s most important sources of foreign exchange. Although tourism makes a significant contribution to development, at the same time it turns out that tourism industry activities also produce a number of negative impacts, such as environmental degradation, shifts in local culture and socio-economic inequality among people. As a result, there is a tendency towards market orientation and preference shifts in selecting tourism products. Conventional tourism products are becoming increasingly abandoned and tourist are turning to tourism products that value the environment, nature, culture and attractions in a special way. Tourist satisfaction no longer rest on the natural beauty and completeness of tourist facilities but also on the flexibility and intensity of interaction with the environment and the local community.
The formulation of the problem in this study is how the model of policy development in the tourist village of Tasikmalaya Regency is based on community empowerment. This study aims to obtain the formulation of the result of the tourism village management policy model. Tourism is an activity carried out by tourist to a tourist destination outside of daily life and the neighborhood to make a temporary stopover from the residence, which is driven by several needs without intending to earn a living and but based on the need to get pleasure, and accompanied to enjoy a variety of entertainment that can relieve fatigue and produce a travel experience and hospitably service.

The approach to tourism development is based on the ability of local people to be involved in tourism development itself. The approach that places the community as an inseparable part of the tourism product and the understanding that the tourism product is a process of social engineering of society is the essence of community-based development. The manifestation of community empowerment is through developing economic activities to support each tourism potential that grows in that environment. One such tourist destination is a tourist village in Tasikmalaya Regency.

The purpose of this study was to determine the policy model to improve the management of tourism villages in the village of Cisayong. This research was conducted using qualitative descriptive methods. This study revealed that the policy of developing and developing tourism villages in Cisayong village was directed to: a) regulate the development of tourism village activities in accordance with the characteristics of superior attractiveness and carrying capacity of the environment; b) maintain existing competitiveness; c) improve services to tourists. The policy model that will be applied is to increase tourist visits both locally and internationally in the Cisayong tourism village which consist of several variables, namely: regulations, policy standards and targets, resources, communication between organizations and strengthening activities, characteristics of related organizations and implementation activities, disposition or attitude, social, economic, and political environment and supervision must be ensured to run well. A number of problems in implementing tourism management policies in the village Cisayong includes limited human resources, and low coordination and similar perceptions among local government organizations (OPD), although coordination aspects are important in the efforts to encourage increased tourist visits.

2. Research Methods

The approach taken in this study uses a rationalistic approach. Data collections was carried out through primary and secondary surveys, sociological normative and empirical normative by collecting data not only from the literature but also in the field and field research, considering the problem under study was the policy relationship between sociological, psychological and juridical factors including customary law, review media and literature studies. In taking the sample using the purposive sampling method to get respondents competent or influential in achieving the targets obtained by using stakeholder analysis.

Analysis techniques that will be used to achieve goals and objectives include using descriptive qualitative analysis methods, with interview and observation data collection technique in the Cisayong Tourism Village. The object of this research is the policy issued by the Regional Government of Tasikmalaya Regency, West Java related to the tourism village policy. This research is a descriptive analysis.
3. Results and Discussions

17. Karaha Bodas, the location is in the duchy village. These attractions are charming sulfur craters and pine forests, mini-style potential has been maximized as a geothermal power plant, and still needs to be developed. For a white crater with a special view complete with hills and a combination of green, white and yellow from sulfur that brings out its own color.

18. The great potential to become a leading tourism village is the village of Cisaong as a homestay tourism village, because in this village there is a Lodaya supernatural soccer field which has an international standard as a result of the community self-help. This field is 93 meters by 53 meters and can water the field automatically and can boost tourism with a monthly turnover of up to 30 million.

Out of the 18 tourism potentials in the Tasikmalaya district, there is Cisayong village, which can be realized as one of the tourist villages, because village II can generate tourist visits and serve as an example that from a simple field capable of generating visits and economic transactions, so that the village of Cisayong this will become a class from a developed village to a developed village, and it is not impossible that someday there will be the highest category in the village, that is to become an independent village.

The form of tourism village management is owned by a well-managed community, taking into account several important aspects of management such as; (1) aspects of human resources, (2) financial aspects, (3) material aspects, (4) management aspects and (4) market aspects. In one organization of community organizations in the form of partnerships, corporate management, foundations or village tourism management bodies whose management elements are recruited from the abilities of the local community and prioritize the role of young people who have the educational background or skills needed (Sastrayuda, 2010).

Regarding the characteristics of Cisayong Village, a village located on the northern slope of Galunggung Mountain, Tasikmalaya Regency, West Java, because of its location on the slope of the mountain, tourists who visit can enjoy the view of Mount Galunggung. In 2012, the Cisayong Village was established by the Tasikmalaya District Government as a tourist village. The characteristics of the tourism village are divided into two aspects, namely the social and physical aspects, for the social aspect consists of the daily activities of the cisayong village community including the potential of the traditional system which still applies, while the physical aspect consists of the facilities and infrastructure in the cisayong village.

Cisayong village, located in Tasikmalaya Regency, has great potential to become a leading tourism village and will be projected to become a homestay tourism village because tourists find it difficult to stay overnight. One of the strengths of the Cisayong village is that it has an international Sakti Lodaya soccer field as a result of community self-help. This field has area 93 meters by 53 meters and can water the field automatically, so as to increase tourism with a monthly turnover of Rp. 30 million. One would not have thought that behind a soccer field could make the village of Cisayong move up from the village level with the katebori progressing, because there were often ball games between districts. even dating from areas around the Tasikmalaya district. This soccer field is interesting, because of its international size and includes village development priorities.

Provisions of Law No. 6 of 2014 concerning Villages gave birth to new enthusiasm for rural communities in developing the economy. In the provision of Article 87 paragraph (1), a village can establish a village-owned company called a BUMDesa. Establishment and development of BUMDesa based on village community initiatives and initiatives. However, in terms of development, many BUMDESA have experienced problems, because they have developed businesses similar to those already in the village.

Supervision carried out by the Inspectorate of West Java Province found that the process of establishing BUMDesa was more than just running, operating, and developing BUMDesa. Related to this, if you want to develop the potential of the village. But Bumdes in Cisayong village has not gone well. So it is necessary to analyze the potential of villages and villages for human resource readiness. In line with this, Cisayong Desa as one of the tourist villages in Tasikmalaya Regency should make strategic and planned efforts to develop the existing potential. This is an effort to support the economic development of the local village community. BUMDesa Establishment Planning is expected to be able to develop the community economy through the type of business that will be established in accordance with the articles of association and the household budget. So as to develop the economy of the new tourist village community pioneered its establishment.

The character of the social aspects of the village of Cisayong is adjusted to the condition of the area where most of the land use is used for agriculture. Due to natural conditions, the people of Cisayong village are farming more as their livelihoods. Exiting conditions in the village of Ciayong can be used as a potential attraction for tourist villages that can be utilized. Each potential was asked to respondents who had long lived to find out what the potential influences and could be developed into a tourist village, among others, agriculture, plantation, homestay, nature tourism with the waterfall that took about an hour.

The development of the tourism village in Tasikmalaya Regency is very rapid, so the Tasikmalaya regency government plans to implement a policy on tourism villages in the form of a Regent Regulation, so that the implementation and management of the wiata village has a legal umbrella. However, up to now there has not been any new planning. While the policies of each tourism village, the legal umbrella varies, starting from the sub-district permit to being managed by a tourism awareness forum.

Along with the development of the Tourism Village in Tasikmalaya district, there are several problems faced, as in table 1 below:
